Superintendent's Message

Spring forward...spring cleaning...spring training...spring break....this is the time of year when students start thinking about "springing" outside where the weather is beautiful! It's hard to blame them.

Please remember that the Arizona Department of Education Certification Unit will be here on Wed. March 5th for their annual on-site certification session. No appointment needed between 12:30 and 4:00 in the Graham County General Services Building.

I am pleased to announce the formation of the Graham/Greenlee Early Childhood Coalition. All preschool and K-3 teachers are invited to attend the inaugural meeting on Tuesday March 11th at 4:00 in the General Services Building.

Please plan on registering to "save your seat at SEATA" this month. Registration will be open soon and everyone is encouraged to join us for another great academy. SEATA will be held June 2-5, 2014 on the Eastern Arizona College campus. Happy Spring!

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING EARLY CHILDHOOD ENDORSEMENT

Dear Education Colleagues:

In light of feedback from the field regarding a shortage of Kindergarten teachers, the Arizona Department of Education is temporarily reinstating the Early Childhood Rule (Option C) that allows teachers to qualify for the Early Childhood endorsement with three years full-time teaching experience in grades Birth-Grade 3 and a passing score on the Early Childhood Subject Knowledge exam. Individuals who do not have three years of full time teaching experience prior to July 1, 2012 will only be able to apply under this option until October 1, 2014.

Please keep in mind the Early Childhood Endorsement or Certificate is only required for Preschool and Kindergarten teachers. However, it is highly recommended that your 1st - 3rd Grade teachers take advantage of this one-time opportunity in the event they should find themselves in a Kindergarten classroom.

Individuals will need to take and pass either the NES (Test #101) or AEPA Early Childhood (Test #36) Subject Knowledge exam then submit the completed application for Certification, Verification of Teaching Experience form and a check or money order for $60 to the Certification office no later than September 30, 2014.

The Certification Unit will no longer be able to work with individuals who do not have three years of full time teaching experience in Early Childhood prior to July 1, 2012 and want to qualify under Option C after September 30, 2014. If individuals do not submit their applications by September 30, 2014 they will be required to obtain the Early Childhood endorsement through either Option A or B.

Please contact

Jan Pentek or Kasey Ohrns at 602-542-4000 if you have further questions.

Soft Skills: Critical to the Workforce

Somehow the ability to communicate, get along with others, control emotions, self-motivate, think creatively and solve problems have come to be known as “soft skills” – a term that makes them sound nice, but unnecessary. Yet, all you have to do is interact with someone who lacks these skills to know how critical they are. Employers certainly do. A 2013 survey of employers found that 93% agreed that a candidate’s demonstrated soft skills are more important than their undergraduate major. Business professionals report that despite a high unemployment rate, they have jobs they cannot fill because of a lack of social (soft) skills. James Heckman, Nobel Laureate economist notes, “Character skills turn knowledge into know-how and people into productive citizens.”

But, why is this being shared through a First Things First article? Because we know that soft skills (also known as executive functions) take root from birth to five years old. Learning to play with others develops language skills and improved teamwork. Making up games and rules develops negotiations skills. Learning to follow rules develops ethics. Early exploration develops creative thinking and problem solving.

Successful people have well developed executive functions. This is just another reminder that early childhood experiences follow a person through a lifetime. We must give children the tools to develop these essential skills.

Safford, AZ 85546
(928) 432-4165

The Safford City / Graham County Library offers services beyond checking out books. The Graham County School Superintendent has partnered with the library to offer homework help for students from kindergarten through college. It's free to Graham County students. Visit the library's homepage at www.cityofsafford.us and click on the Homework Help icon. This will lead you to the icon for Tutor.com. "Check out" this free tool and get help on any subject.

Citizens looking for help with finding a job should take advantage of the services offered by Job Skills Instructor, Kevin Hansen. Mr. Hansen offers help in finding jobs and preparing resumes. Additionally, he will help coach job seekers as they practice their interview skills. This is a great service!

The library has partnered with First Things First to enhance literacy skills in our youngest population. In addition to story time, parents can bring their children to the Brain Box sessions and other preschool activities scheduled throughout the year. The library has secured a grant from First Things First to fund the Imagination Library Book Club. Children ages birth through five can be signed up to receive a free, age-appropriate book in the mail each month. These are just a few of the wonderful things families can explore due to the partnerships formed by the library.
